AFTER THE BEAR MARKET: TURKMENISTAN OPENS TO CHINA

Marker Global has produced an independent report analysing the factors that contributed to China's rise to be a key client for Central Asia's oil & gas industry. It explains how China has become the country's largest foreign investor within a short period of time, reversing the long-held Russian dominance of the country's energy exports.

The report is an essential tool for any professionals, consultancies, government departments, regulatory bodies and researchers needing independent, up-to-date and in-depth analysis on China's interests in Central Asia.
